Rita & family, The staff and tenants of RJ Barrett Manor are saddened to hear of Anthony's passing. He was very loved here by all of us and still dearly missed. He was one of the most grateful men that I have had the privilege of knowing! Never a complain uttered from him, just always jolly and happy to be amongst friends here. My deepest condolences to you all! Ally vonKnoblauch

Rita & Anthony, my sisters and I were saddened to hear of your dad's recent death. The 3 of us were so glad to have had the opportunity, through notes, calls, and little remembrances to share some time with Uncle Tony while he was in Loretta. We have wonderful memories from our youth and many years beyond of him. His easy, loving manner, gentleness, and quiet humor shall be remembered by Terry, Bev, and me with great fondness. Love, Rosemary

Dear Rita and Anthony and family Uncle Tony, as I always knew him, was such a nice man, father, husband and grandfather. I spent time with him and Aunt Madeline when I was with the Baranello family and I so enjoyed his special sausage. He lived with all of us for a very long and full life but it is never enough. I lost my mom last year at 100 and it seems the years went by too quickly. My thoughts and prayers are with you all of you at this sad time. Mary Anne Sacco

To the entire family of Anthony 'Tony' P. Barnello: It would be hard to find a more gentle and caring man than Uncle Tony was. My wife Fiona and I came to see him in Syracuse in December 2010 after what was for me a 19 year absence from Syracuse. My wife and I live in Canberra, Australia, I've lived there for 23 and one half years and I am the oldest grandson of Tony's oldest brother, the late Nicholas R. Barnello and Mary S. Barnello (nee: Barone). My wonderful grandparents were both interred by this funeral home in the most sensitive and caring way, as I was actually here the time before for my grandmother's funeral in 1991. Anyway, I am so happy now that I saw my wonderful uncle then, he and my Pappa were so much alike and that my Australian bride met him too, it meant so much to us to see him at that time. Love to all my relations, Nicholas Young Campbell 5-11-2013
