Jim was a close friend to my brother Vince Ferretti, now deceased. In their "younger" years they hung out together with other friends. I got to know & respected Jim (Jack) as well..a true soft spoken, kind, gentle man... My condolences and prayers go to your family and knowing Jim, I'm sure he is in a better place because of his "goodness." God Bless you all! Paul Ferretti

Jim DiSano, my good friend, I hate to see you go. You and Gloria were such warm loving friends. Living near you on Chariot Lane back in the 70's was a special memory. Every weekend we partied walking from our house to yours, the Raibles or the Creeches. You two would cook us a wonderful pizza or another Italian meal. I'll always remember our pinnacle games, holiday parties, kids' events, church dances and neighborly fun. Our trips to St. Croix, Marco Island and Jamaica were such a joy. "Hey, life is good!", Jim would say. I miss you both...Love, Peggy Palamar
