I am thinking of her today still ... and will always. I can see that childhood friend I had in her photo and look forward to playing with her like we did as kids long ago, one day soon. Life is short ... too short in her case.

Thank you Stephen, that was beautiful.

Rosa Butler lit a candle in honor of Julianne .

My husband and I would like to offer our condolences. We came up on Julianne just shortly after the accident happened. Please rest assured she had an immediate journey to heaven. We understand your loss and pain. It's impossible to make sense of such a tragedy. We lost our son 12 years ago in the same way.

I'm so glad we now know her name and know a little about what a great person she was. Although this seems impossible now you will find your way. Just remember that Julianne is not "lost". You know where she is. She just got her reward before the rest of you. In the meantime she is in your hearts and memories and by your side. I am praying for all of you...family, friends, and of course her pup. Hope she is o.k. Al and Rosa Butler in Ct.

I am Julianne's mother, thank you so much for sharing that she left us quickly. I have laid in bed at night and prayed that she didn't suffer. Your words will comfort me God bless you.

Deborah Gary April 3 at 3:04 PM

Thank you for your kind words and also letting us know that she left quickly. One day you fell like your ok and then it feels like your right back at the beginning of grief. Her pup Dutchess is in the safe arms of her boyfriend George.

Julianne took care of my son Greyson(23 months)in the ER at Samaritain on Friday, March 7. He has cancer and had had a seizure at daycare. When she came on shift at 7 she was our nurse. She was so kind and pleasant. She shared her experiences of her youngest son at Galisano Hospital. She was wonderful. I remember thinking Julianne was a pretty name, then when I heard of the accident I was so hoping it was not her. I am saddened about your loss. God bless you! She loved her family I know she did because she spoke about you all with a smile and pride on her face that night. Our prayers are with you! Christina and Thomas Trottier

We will always remember you Julianne, as Cindy's sister. Both of you give us many fond memories. One of which was the time Cindy became so angry with you, she bit your head. Your mother being the wise person she is said "bite her back." You must have because we never heard of another biting incident. Our families shared many wonderful times together living here in Forestburgh, and we treasure the memories. Thank you. For being a part of our lives, and please say hello to David for us. Love, Dave & Marge Griffin

We haven't seen or talked in years. I am so grateful that we were at least able to connect on Facebook. I loved reading your daily updates and hysterical comments on the snow this year, seeing all your yummy recipes in action, and just feeling how much love you have for life, your family, and friends. The same Julie you always were as a kid. Totes lives in your house now so I always have memories when home of hot dogs grilling on the back deck (with a stick of course!), that adorable raccoon and catching him watching tv in the basement, a horse??? Exploring outside. Going through coordinated chicken pox together. Seeing u in Syracuse on many occasions in the different very cool homes your parents had, going to the House of Lyons as kids and then me waitressing there for ur awesome grandparents for years. You were a beautiful person and can now bring that to where it must be needed more. Please say hi to Tristin for me. Karaoke in peace, Julie. Xoxo
