Aunt Zilpha and Uncle Guy are a very big part of my memories of growing up in Syracuse. They were always there for their family and were the King and Queen of family parties! Some of my fondest memories of Aunt Zilpha go back to days when, with cousin Dan Gilson, we would spend hours and hours roaming around the Panther Lake environs and then collapse in the beds near the fire at the camp. Also listening to the stories told around the penny poker games that used to take place at the houses of the Tarbell sisters and hearing the laughter as they shared escapades of their lives as young couples. My mother and father, Aunt Ruth and Uncle Al, Aunt Janet and Uncle Owen, Ruth and Pierce Gale, and Uncle Guy and Aunt Zilpha - all contributed greatly to my early years and have supplied me with oceans of material for stories to tell my grandchildren! Through it all, the most stable, reliable and quiet force was Aunt Zilpha - I miss you and know that as the last of the group listed above, you are being welcomed with open arms and the the party can now really begin!John Unbehend 6/7/11

Kath, Jeff, Chrissie, and Guy, What great memories I have too of Mema - especially up at camp. I DO remeber the "T here's a lion out there!?" Yes, there was always a line (lion!) outside the bathroom! What a fantastic, classy lady she was! And what a wonderful long life she had. How lucky you were to have her all of your life.Sending up a special prayer thanking her for making me always feel like part of the family. Thinking of you all!

To the Fenocchi Family: I was very sorry to hear about the passing of Mrs. Fenocchi. She was a wonderful lady (like another grandmother to me). She was always so very caring and I enjoyed living above her at the "Stafford Street Penthouse" those six years (I never had to worry about being warm). Keep all of those wonderful memories of her with you. She truly was a special person.

I am so sorry to hear of Mema's passing. I will always have very fond memories of her at the lake. I loved and was envious of the significant role your grandparents held in your lives. Your family, and all her knew her, were so very blessed to have Mema and her beautiful soul with us for so long. She will always be there to listen and comfort you... just listen with your heart now. Thinking of you all, Shelley Tafel

"Oh honey - what can your Mema get for you " My grandmother , my Mema was the most selfless , loving , and nurturing person on this earth. When in her presence , it was always about you.....She was always there to listen to you, and comfort you- whether it was about a new job, a new baby , or a newly broken heart. She owned the word 'kindness' . I can only hope to emulate a small fraction of this beautiful woman's character. I love you Mema- and may you have an eternity full of 'beautiful mornings' :) Kath
