I did not know Andrew, or any of his family, I only read about his passing in the paper. I have a son just a bit older than Andrew, and his obituary caught my attention. I noticed that he and I shared the same birthday, and I don't know what drew me in enough to watch his tribute, but it brought tears to my eyes. My heart aches for his family and friends, to lose such a handsome young man, before he had a chance to live a full life. I'm sure in his short time, that he left an impression, a footprint, and also a void in many lives. I hope that some how, you will find the strength to go on, and celebrate his life, finding some comfort in your memories, to get you through the rough days ahead. I am truly sorry for your loss.

I had the pleasure to teaching Andrew at Grant. He was a wonderful student and friend to everyone. So sad to see that his life has come to an end, but knowing that he is watching over his family and friends brings some joy to such a sad time. My thoughts and prayers are with the family as they go through this difficult time.

Andrew, I'm not sure what happened but I'm sorry and I hope that you have now found peace. You have so many friends that were ready, willing and able to help you through whatever was bothering you but we can not focus on the what ifs as it does not change the painful reality... Please find a way to reach out to your family and friends and help them get through this difficult time... I have been trying for the last few days to find the words to help my daughter thru this time and I can't seem to find them.. mainly because there are no words to say when you lose a friend, a brother, a son, a grandson, a cousin, a classmate.... only tears and time...Martha, David, and Emily: I am incredibly sorry for your loss. I wish I could take your pain away... now that we will always be with you and Andrew will never be forgotten.

One of the hardest working players, I ever coached was Andrew. Everyone will tell you he wasn't Mickey Mantle but he sure gave it his all. He came to practice early and was the last one to leave. He never once in three yrs complained of playing time or ever asked to play a different position then the one he was given. He was as they say the ultimate team player. There was never an " I IN TEAM" when Andrew played. It was an honor and a privilege to coach ANDREW CASTLE. Thanks Andrew. I would also like to add that there has not been a parent in all my years of coaching as devoted to his son as Mr Castle. He did everything the right way as a little league parent and not many can say that. I want to also say Thank you. Coach Lasda
