Steven you will be missed! Thank you for watching over Aiden when I asked you too and thank you for being a buddy to Westin. I can't remember a time when I didn't see you smile, I would always call you Fred and you would just laugh as I kept apologizing every time. I have been seeing you for years in the lobby waiting for your mom to pick you up or just hanging with your friends. Every time you smiled I smiled , it's just what you made people do so easily. The boys will miss seeing you at open gym and at the games. At your memorial hearing all the wonderful things about you and how even greater you were as a person and friend and son was so touching. What a servant of God you were and I only hope to some day love and trust him even more the way you did so effortlessly . I have your picture on my fridge and I catch myself looking at it when I struggle with something and ask " what would Steven do". When I saw you at school that Monday before your surgery I asked you how you were and I keep regretting not walking over and talking to you more and giving you a hug. It's so sad and unbelievable sometimes because you were so Full of life that it's jyst heartbreaking you suffered the way that you did. But you are with your healer. Thank you for your friendship and all you left behind and your faith in God. Megan did a beautiful and memorable and extremely touching speech on your behalf and I will never forget it. I know everyone left your memorial and I as well clinging to God and wanting him more because of you.

John and I were stunned and saddened when we saw Steven's obituary in the paper today. Last time we saw him he was around 4 or 5 when you lived in Hickory Hollow. We are so sorry for your loss- words can hardly express how much. Lean on each other to help you at this sad time. John and Sue Kline

Dear Santucci Family, I have many memories of Steven from directing choirs at Faith Heritage for over 11 years. As I taught the High School choir, I required a "study hall sing" of each student. Steven would always come with his usual infectious sense of humor bringing along his friend Jake. Truth be told Steven wasn't a great singer but there were great moments (with Jake's help) when he would sing the correct pitch and all 3 of us would get excited! I know without a shadow of a doubt that Steven is now singing ALL the correct pitches in Heaven; he is smiling, laughing and dancing in praise!! My heart is very saddened by his death but very comforted that he is waiting in Heaven for me. My heart felt prayers are for you all! Love, Elizabeth Robertson Former choral director Faith Heritage School

Fred, Denise, Family and Megan, Our hearts break for your great loss. God created a beautiful masterpiece of joy, energy, kindness, laughter and innocent charm that he gave to us in Steven for a brief time. This blessing will always be with us. Though we are sure that he lives now in complete wholeness and joy in His presence, we grieve for the future with him that is lost to us here. Our prayers are continually of you as you walk through this heartbreaking time. Kathy and Harry

Fred, we'll always miss his passion he had for the outdoors, just like his Dad. Remember in Wyoming when he threw his apple core into the woods and hit me in the head...? He was so sorry for that, as well as when we took the boys steelhead fishing for the first time. Great memories. My heart breaks for you, Denise, Fred and Susan. We'll always have a seat reserved for him in our fishing boat. Stay strong my friend. Anthony, Deanna and Matthew Pesco

I first met Steven several years ago when, as a substitute teacher at FHS, he breezed into my classroom and, despite my best efforts at remaining aloof, he captured my heart forever. Such a great young Christian guy who won over everyone he came into contact with. May he light up heaven as he did on earth! Jack Mumford
