Our cousin Rosie always had a warm contagious smile and grateful, loving words to share every time I saw her. She was a strong woman who set an admirable example about moving forward with faith and love, despite experiencing the personal tragedy of losing her son to illness at a young age and losing several close family members in a short time span. She will always be cherished and remembered with lots of love in our hearts ❤️ Our thoughts and prayers are with the family. Love, Koolakian Family
