When I first met Brian , he was just 10! Watched him grownup--last saw Brian in a plumbing supply , it was around 10-11 years ago--from our conversation, it was evident how very precious Brittany was to him. I am so very sorry for your loss

"And now, the end is here And so I face the final curtain My friend, I'll say it clear I'll state my case, of which I'm certain I've lived a life that's full I traveled each and every highway And more, much more than this, I did it my way Regrets, I've had a few But then again, too few to mention I did what I had to do and saw it through without exemption I planned each charted course, each careful step along the byway And more, much more than this, I did it my way Yes, there were times, I'm sure you knew When I bit off more than I could chew But through it all, when there was doubt I ate it up and spit it out I faced it all and I stood tall and did it my way" - Frank Sinatra, My Way Barb & Britt, Please know that the "life" we know is only a short stop along the journey that God has planned for us. Brian is "home" now, in a place where he no longer has to suffer, and can be with both of you every single day. Each time you hear or see something that reminds you of him, know that his soul is with you at that very moment. "Death leaves a heartache no one can heal, love leaves a memory no one can steal" I love you both. -Lyss
