Rest in peace, Michael you were a good stepfather We had a lot of good times and Bad times I remember the time our trailer tipped over on top of our car A lot of good holidays and a lot of time singing in the car I think that's why I like music so much Sting like a bee float like a butterfly was sorry that we didn't see this earlier. I remember seeing Michael at the civic Center a few years back I was sitting at a red light after making a delivery. He was walking by and I yelled hey Mike he came walking over to the truck and we had a good conversation. You're a good person and had a lot of good influences on us My leg
