Growing up with my sister was one of the greatest joys. We shared so many laughs, secrets, and adventures as kids - memories that I will treasure. She had a light in her that made even the ordinary feel special. She was the one who introduced me to the father of my children, a moment that changed the course of my life. That's just the kind of person she was - always bringing people together, always making connections that mattered. Her greatest pride and joy, though, was her family. Carl her partner and her love of her son and daughter with all her heart. Pam's grandchildren lit up her world in ways that words can hardly capture. She was fiercely protective, endlessly supportive, and gave her love so freely. Her absence leaves a hole that can never truly be filled. We will miss her deeply, but we carry her spirit with us in every memory, every smile, and every story we share in her honor...much love is sent To Carl, Jerad & Amber...Patti
